

Spindletop Connections

Spindletop is thrilled to share with you our newest program - Spindletop Connections! We have seen that interest in volunteering continues to grow rapidly among the energy industry. The Spindletop Emerging Leader Steering Committee has been hard at work to strategize ways to continue to meet the needs and wants of the Spindletop Army as well as have opportunities for individuals and their companies looking to volunteer as a team - thus Spindletop Connections was created!

What is Spindletop Connections?

Spindletop Community Impact Partners engages member companies to develop young leaders as well as strengthen their community presence and network through philanthropic giving and volunteerism. Spindletop Connections fulfills this vision as it is a service provided by the Spindletop office to work as a liaison between sponsor corporations and non-profits to plan volunteer events for the companies involved.

How Can My Company Get Involved?

Spindletop Connections is offered to companies that have contributed $10,000 or more collectively in a calendar year through special events or outright donations. If you are interested in learning more or getting a volunteer event scheduled, please contact Spindletop Executive Director Lia Vallone. She will work with you directly on identifying the impact area in which you are interested in volunteering, provide options of non-profits that have opportunities available, and introduce your organization's contact with the non-profit to finalize logistics.

Can My Employees Get Involved with Spindletop in Additional Ways?

Yes, all participants of Spindletop Connections as well as anyone within the energy industry are welcome to join the Spindletop Army, where volunteer events are planned almost every month with different Spindletop-supported non-profits.

“Working with our youth charities and seeing the difference our organization makes in the lives of so many children is incredibly rewarding. I am very proud to serve on the Board of Spindletop Community Impact Partners and continue these good works through philanthropy, volunteerism and now Spindletop Connections.”

JULIE ROBERTSON
